

Embossed Timber Wood Texture Card

7 MAY 2026

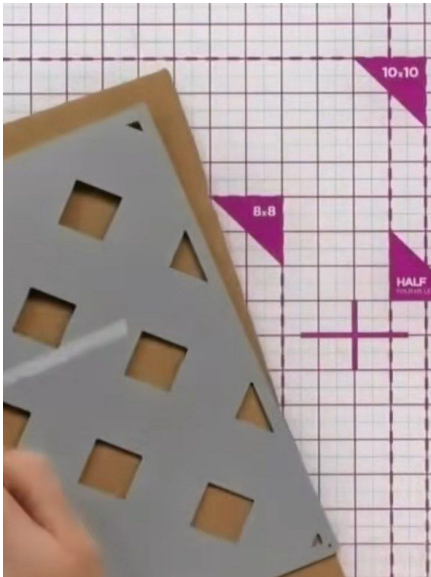

Create a charming card with an embossed timber wood texture effect in warm brown tones. Using a large embossing die, you'll achieve a realistic wood grain pattern with raised detail that's enhanced through selective inking. This dimensional technique creates a beautiful rustic finish perfect for handmade greetings.

STEP 1

Place your craft card into the die-cutting machine along with the timber embossing die. Ensure the die is positioned correctly with the card ready to be run through the machine. Watch this step: 52:30 into the show

STEP 2

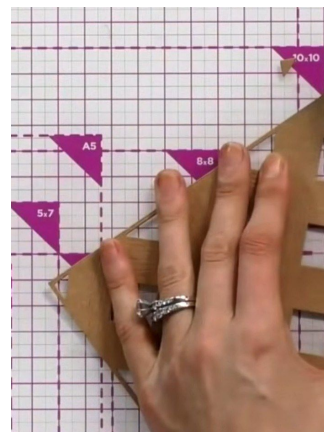

Feed your card through the pink die-cutting machine with the wood texture embossing folder to cut and emboss the timber pattern onto the card in one pass. Watch this step: 53:00 into the show

Apply teal or brown ink selectively to the embossed areas of the house die-cut to highlight the wood grain texture detail. Use a darker colour to enhance the dimensional effect of the embossing.

Lightly spray or dab water onto the inked embossed design to create a weathered, aged timber effect. The water will soften and blend the ink, enhancing the embossed detail.

STEP 5

Mount the embossed house die-cut onto your chosen card base. Position it centrally and secure with adhesive, ensuring all edges are firmly attached.

TIPS FROM THE SHOW

- Use shims with your die-cutting machine to ensure you get the full emboss detail
- A white embossed design on white card creates a clean, classic look without added colour
